

WHY JOIN THE CEN?

"The CEN offers an opportunity to discuss your organization's needs with other CEO's. This has proved to be an extremely powerful tool to build our business. The CEN provides help in manufacturing, personnel, marketing, purchasing, and other areas. We share problems, achievements, and friendships. There is not a better organization anywhere."

William Sumner, CEO,
Arcadia Manufacturing Group Inc.
Green Island, NY

"Today's business environment demands continuous learning. The programs and networking opportunities the CEN offers are invaluable to manufacturing."

Thomas Marusak, President
Comfortex Window Fashions
Maplewood, NY

"Building a successful business can be an isolating experience. CEN provides opportunities to meet with other CEO's to discuss solutions they have found for similar problems, learn about other manufacturing systems and processes, and exchange ideas about marketing, personnel, safety issues, and labor regulations."

Leslie Resio, Controller
Ed Levin, Inc.
Cambridge, NY

WHO WE ARE

The Chief Executives Network for Manufacturing (CEN) is a not-for-profit member organization comprised of more than 45 chief executive officers of small and medium-sized manufacturing businesses in 11 counties in the Capital Region (Albany, Columbia, Fulton, Greene, Montgomery, Rensselaer, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Warren and Washington). Since its inception in 1987, the CEN has focused on providing a high quality forum for its members to discuss common issues, share knowledge, and develop best practices by drawing on the collective knowledge of its membership.

The CEN provides a variety of programs, networking events, and professional development opportunities for its member executives. As an affiliate of the Center for Economic Growth (CEG), a private, business development organization serving New York's Capital Region and Tech Valley, CEG programs are also available to CEN members.

Small and medium-sized manufacturers must take advantage of opportunities to increase productivity and reduce costs in order to remain competitive and profitable. CEN's mission is to help provide the opportunities, information, resources, and knowledge that will assist members in enhancing revenue and growth.

TOGETHER WE ARE STRONGER
THAN ANY ONE OF US ALONE.
